GENESIS - If you're looking for a one-stop shop in Second Life, you'll come across few as well-stocked or as carefully put together as Adam n Eve shops where you can pick their best works from a vast selections of clothing, skins, shoes, hair and jewelery for both men and women.

The newest addition to the Adam n Eve catalogue, released this week, is the Casual wear range, designed for the classy avatar to show off during their day-to-day Second Life.

"I wanted to extend my range of casuals and we always pride ourselves on our quality, so I wanted to theme the new collection as high class day wear for classy avatars," says sachi Vixen, the designer behind the range.

"The sort of avatar I imagine in these outfits is someone with a sense of style who likes to look pretty, original and enjoys mixing and matching items to create different looks, therefore achieving the "WOW" effect."

Vixen will be creating new pieces for the range throughout the next few months. "I'll be adding to it through the spring and summer, then probably making a new collection for the fall/winter," she said.
